
ICM Policy Revision - Update Process
19 July, 2024

As indicated in the prior update dated 10 April 2024, ICM members are currently participating in a collaborative process of engagement to develop a revised policy for the ICM. This collaborative process includes engagement with internal and external stakeholders. The ultimate output from this engagement will be a draft ICM Policy that will be made available for public input and comment as part of a formal public consultation process. We are aiming for the public consultation process to commence in November 2024.